

Overall, it makes something more delicious.

Love is like a cucumber.

Love always brings with it a bit of sourness.

but in reality, a love like this would be bland.

This sourness by itself is unpleasant

and love based on an unrealistic ideal will not accomodate it and although love brings pain, love can take pain away.

and it will not last long.

An ideal love would be big, simple and Flawless

But if we do not expect too much of Love

we learn that sweetness and sourness can go together, and last a long time

How to LOVE
